Religion & Worldviews

Year 4: Spring 1

Why are there four Gospels and how are they relevant for Christians?

The Bible

The Bible is made up of many books.

The New Testament tells Christians about Jesus' life and teachings.

The first four books of the New Testament are called Gospels.

The Gospels are named Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

The Gospels tell stories about Jesus' life, miracles, death and resurrection.

Christians believe the Gospels are true stories about Jesus.

Each Gospel writer shared events from their own point of view.
